

Fatima Jakoet is currently a Senior First Officer at South African Airways. Her career in aviation started in 2001 when she was selected on the South African Airways Cadet Pilot Programme. In 2002, as part of her internship she joined Airlink as co-pilot on the Jetstream 41 until May 2005 when she was appointed at South African Airways.

She is also a graduate MBA (2009) from the University of Stellenbosch and holds both a National Diploma in Analytical Chemistry and BTech Chemistry from the Cape Peninsula University of Technology. Prior to joining the world of aviation Fatima was on both the National Health Laboratories and SAPS Forensic Teams as specialist in toxicology and narcotics respectively. Fatima is the Founder of the Sakhikamva Foundation an aviation awareness and skills development organisation established in 2010.